Additionally, Quisitive's Cloud Solutions business focuses on helping enterprises accelerate their digital transformation journeys, including pairing the insights gained through PayiQ with powerful data & analytics and business applications practices. Quisitive serves clients globally from seventeen employee hubs across the world.

PayiQ General

100-word description

PayiQ, a Quisitive company, is the first cloud-enabled, end-to-end payment processing platform. Our reseller solutions are designed to improve payment processing for ISOs and ISVs through a suite of new technologies that automate and streamline traditional back-office operations to improve efficiency and improve merchant support. For merchants, our Payments Intelligence® solution captures and analyzes rich data from every card-based transaction in every channel and transforms everyday payment transactions into deep consumer insights. It optimizes consumer engagement operations by creating individual profiles that map previous buying behaviors and category preferences, allowing merchants to deliver personalized promotions based on a customer's interests.
